VICTORIA COLLEGE RESULTS ANNOUNCED TO-DAY

JULY 28 MAY BE DATE OF FEDERAL ELECTION Leaders Confer on Session Plans to Hasten Election

Dissolution of Parliament Late in May Seems Probable From Events in Ottawa; Conservative and U.F.A. Members Hold Caucuses on Premier King's Request Session Be Ended as Soon as Possible; Leaders Conferred Yesterday Evening for First Time in History and Met Again To-day.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 7.—Parliament will not likely be dissolved until late in the month if dissolution is to be brought about on the suggestion of Premier King for an arrangement with all parties to expedite the budget and all other legislation introduced. Dissolution in two weeks' time was suggested.

Conservative and U.F.A. members gathered in separate caucuses to-day and discussed the proposal of the government. The consensus of opinion at these meetings was that there should be no reckless haste. In both of these political camps the feeling was expressed that the budget and some of the main estimates should be examined into carefully. The Conservatives have a number of speakers desirous of addressing the House on the budget, while four or five U.F.A. members are now on the Speakers' list of that group.

If by any possible chance the government should force dissolution, it is immediately, it is very improbable the budget would pass before the general election.

A rumor current in Liberal circles earlier in the morning suggested Monday, July 28, as the probable date of the appeal to the people.

Conferences between the Prime Minister, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, and Robert Gordon, U.F.A. leader, were set for later to-day.

The first of the conferences, as suggested by Premier King in his speech in the Commons yesterday, were held yesterday evening.

It was said to have been the first time in Canadian history that the leaders of the Liberals and Conservatives conferred to clear the way for a general election.

Mr. Bennett, Conservative leader, and Mr. King met, and then Robert Gordon, leader of the United Farmers of Alberta, and the Prime Minister conferred.

MONDAY FAVORED
The Cabinet Ministers seem to be partial to Monday for a general election, so the date mentioned in the first rush of discussion on the subject was July 21 or July 28. To-day, July 21 dropped out of the discussion.

TO PASS ESTIMATES
For the session there remain the supplementary estimates to be brought down and passed. Along with the balance of the main estimates. The report of the pensions committee will be received and the recommendations for increased pensions acted upon. It is doubtful whether anything will be done about the radio report, according to members of the government. As for proportional representation, it is not expected any measure will be brought at this session, although the government has not finally made up its mind as to that.

TARIFF DEBATE
Every indication points to the budget being the "bottle-neck" of the session. The first budget of Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, has been pronounced the most momentous in thirty years. Wide increases in the British preference, countervailing duties against countries that place high duties against Canadian products, increased tariff rates against fruits and vegetables of seasonal character and an almost complete revision of the tariff schedules—these and other features of the budget will provide ample material for platform discussion in the next few months.

$100,000 Loss In Fire At Princeton To-day
All Guests Escape as Fire Sweeps Hotel in B.C. Town; Bank Branch and Stores in Same Building Suffer Losses

Canadian Press
Princeton, B.C., May 7.—Fire early this morning badly damaged the Princeton Hotel, with losses estimated at $100,000.

The building also housed the local Bank of Montreal branch, the B.C. Telephone office and several small stores, which suffered damage from water and smoke.

All guests in the hotel escaped with their personal belongings.

BEATTY SEES EARLY GROWTH OF BUSINESS

Slowing Up in Canada Due to Grain Temporary, Says C.P.R. President

Shareholders at Annual Meeting Given Account of Company's Year's Operations

Montreal, May 7.—General confidence throughout Canada is unshaken by the combination of unusual conditions which developed the present situation, the country's strength has been effectively proved and the future is not to be feared with any degree of apprehension. In the opinion of E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as declared to the shareholders of the company at the annual meeting here to-day.

While a number of factors, particularly the failure to market Canadian grain, have slowed up freight traffic, the operations of the company are of a normal business character to prevent the return of normal business conditions within the next few months, according to Mr. Beatty.

YEAR'S OPERATIONS
"Extended comment on the results of the last year will probably not be necessary in consequence of the comprehensive statement of the company's operations contained in the annual report," said Mr. Beatty. "The results may, I think, be considered reasonably satisfactory in view of the traffic conditions which prevailed during the last four months of the year. That these conditions have not materially altered is indicated by the results of the operations for the first three months of this year, showing as they do a decrease in gross earnings of $5,931,000, and a decrease in net earnings of $3,987,000."

As was to have been expected, the reduced movement of grain which was responsible for the lower earnings during the latter part of 1929 is still the principal factor in traffic decreases. An analysis of the first quarter's results is given on page 3.

VICTORIAN GOES TO AUSTRALASIA TO SELL LUMBER

Vancouver, May 7.—L. R. Andrews of Victoria, prominent lumberman, will go to Australia shortly to promote the sale of British Columbia lumber in the southern Dominions. It was stated after a meeting of members of the British Columbia Lumber Manufacturers' Association here.

Mr. Andrews was a member of the delegation which recently returned from an extended missionary trip through Australia and New Zealand.

FATHER MURRAY MADE BISHOP OF VICTORIA TO-DAY

New Roman Catholic Head of Victoria Will Arrive For Installation in June

Montreal, May 7.—Rev. Gerald Murray was elevated to the episcopate to-day, his consecration service as Bishop of Victoria, B.C., taking place in St. Ann's Church here.

His Excellency the Apostolic Delegate to Canada and eighteen archbishops and bishops, as well as 240 priests, representing the clergy of Canada and the United States, were present. There was also a large gathering of the Catholic laity, including Hon. Peter Henderson, Minister of Labor, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, former Minister of Finance.

The newly consecrated Bishop of Victoria, which title gives him jurisdiction over all Roman Catholic churches on Vancouver Island, will not arrive in Victoria until early in the first week of June. There are several matters to which he must attend in Montreal and Toronto before leaving for the west.

Bishop Murray, until last month was head of the English-speaking Roman Catholic Order in Canada and as such is one of the most widely known church workers in the Dominion.

450 DEATHS IN BURMA IN EARTHQUAKE

400 Killed at Pegue and Fifty at Rangoon; Riots Follow Tremors in Rangoon

Rangoon, Burma, India, May 7.—Casualties in Monday's earthquake took about 400 killed in Pegue and somewhat over 250 killed and injured in Rangoon, according to authorities.

Various reports had been circulated regarding the total. To-day's figures based upon counts now going on. Indian residents of this city, which had something in excess of 16,000 population, regarded the earthquake as punishment for the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi. In Rangoon, after the tremors, Indians stripped foreign-made cloth from passersby and burned it. Police and soldiers finally brought the riots under control, but the disturbances were not over.

The Rangoon deaths were placed at fifty, with 204 injured. Few buildings escaped damage here, or demolition in Pegue, where, after the quakes, a tidal wave rushing up the Rangoon River, overwhelmed those who had escaped the tremors.

The Shwe-maw-daw Pagoda at Pegue was partly wrecked.

AGED MAN IN LONELY CABIN IS MURDERED

New Glasgow, N.S., May 7.—H. W. Dryden, seventy-nine-year-old recluse, was killed in bed in his one-roomed home near Glasgow Station, presumably several days ago. The body was found by neighbors yesterday evening.

The man was believed to have been killed for the few dollars he still possessed out of a $50 cheque paid him for work in the lumber woods.

There was no sign of a struggle in Dryden's small dwelling house, but among his tools was discovered a manly wrench covered with stains believed to be blood.

VICTORIANS WIN AWARDS AT THE U.B.C.

Three Scholarships Gained By Local Students at University

Walter Hickman of Vancouver Wins Governor-General's Medal

Vancouver, May 7.—One of the largest graduating classes in its history will be honored by the University of British Columbia to-morrow afternoon when 229 students will receive degrees in arts, applied science, agriculture, commerce and nursing.

Results of the final examinations were announced this morning following a special meeting of the university senate. More than 1,500 students were successful in the various years.

In recognition of his splendid work for the University of British Columbia, the senate this morning decided to award an honorary LL.D. degree to Dr. T. H. Boggs, head of the department of economics, who has resigned to accept a position on the faculty of Stanford University.

In deciding to make the award the senate recalled his distinguished career. He has built up a strong department at the university, his students have won academic positions in all parts of the continent, he has organized the new department of commerce, and is author of "International Trade Balance in Theory and Practice."

Dr. Boggs holds three degrees: a Ph.D. from Yale, and M.A. from Yale, and a B.A. from Acadia and Yale.

HICKMAN BEST STUDENT
Walter Henry Hickman, 2428 West Twelfth Avenue, won the major prize in the graduating class in arts. He captured the Governor-General's gold medal awarded to the student ranking highest in the entire class.

VICTORIANS GAIN AWARDS
Four Victoria students were among the prize winners. Margaret P. H. Young was awarded the Vancouver Women's Canadian Club scholarship of $100 in nursing and health. John L. Plant and Idele L. Wilson participated in the Knaki University and Y.M.C.A. Memorial Fund scholarship.

Donald S. Watson passed in arts and science.

Degrees will be conferred and prizes awarded at "congregation" in the University auditorium to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

OFFERINGS OF WHEAT CAUSE PRICES TO DROP

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, May 7.—Wheat prices slipped back to wipe out yesterday's gains in a quiet and weak market here to-day. Another lull in the export trade was held responsible. At the close values were 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents down for the day.

Fairly heavy offerings about midday upset the even course of the session. Little support was available and the recession was orderly. British cables confirmed a good business in Canadian and United States wheat during the last two days, but there was less activity in local shipping circles to-day.

October wheat, which netted a 1 1/2-cent gain yesterday, dropped back the same extent to-day. It closed at $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 3/4. May was off 1 1/2 cents at $1.04 1/2, and July was down 1 1/2 cents at $1.07 1/2 to $1.07 3/4.

ANNUAL MEETING OF COMMERCE CHAMBER SET FOR FRIDAY

The annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be held on Friday at noon, George I. Warren, managing secretary announced to-day. The annual report will be presented and an address will be given by William Sanford Evans on "General Conditions in British Columbia." Mr. Evans, who was the first president of the first Canadian Club formed in the Dominion, is author of "Canadian Conditions" and "Canadian Impressions."

He was appointed by the British Columbia Government to make a survey of the interior with particular regard to fruit problems with the object of making recommendations which might solve marketing difficulties.

Vancouver, May 7.—Vancouver's tax rate for this year was fixed by the city council this forenoon at 39.88 mills, which is 2.38 mills higher than the 1929 figure of 37.5. In addition the council decided the 10 per cent rebate which has been granted in the past for prompt payment of taxes will be reduced to 5 per cent.

Of the total millage, 20 will go for general purposes. This is the statutory maximum. Schools will take 15.26 mills and the debt levy will require 11.43.

To decrease the original estimate sufficiently to allow the 39.88 rate, the council deleted $1,561,908 from the tax figures submitted by department heads. The originally proposed expenditures amounted to $1,713,817, but only $1,561,907 was granted.

BERRY BLOOMS BELIEVED SAFE DESPITE FROST

Frosty Mornings Sunday and To-day Threaten Strawberry Yield

Potato Acreage in Gordon Head Wiped Out Early Sunday

Frost struck the strawberry districts of Saanich and Gordon Head this morning for the second time since blooming commenced, but little damage has as yet been reported by growers.

On Sunday morning the temperature dropped several degrees below freezing point, wiping out a number of tracks of young potatoes in Gordon Head. While early berry blossoms were imperilled and may have been destroyed, the loss is not regarded as serious.

This morning the temperature again fell below the freezing point, but not as low as on Sunday. As the berry fields are now in full bloom, if damage has been done it will be of considerable importance to the crop.

Students of Victoria College maintained their usual high academic standard, the pass list for the April examinations of the freshman and sophomore years revealed on released to-day, following their ratification by the Senate of the University of British Columbia.

Reports from the faculty of the college stated that averages of both years were well up and compared favorably with those of other years.

The first year was headed by Robert Knight, while the second was led by Charles Armstrong, president of the students' council and first ranking student in the freshman class last year.

The marks of students who took the highest places in individual subjects were also noteworthy. It was stated.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES
Announcement was also made of the awarding of ten scholarships, seven for freshmen and three for sophomores. These winners were named on the understanding that those to whom they would be presented would continue their studies next year at Victoria College for the second year course, or at the University of British Columbia for the third year classes.

Those going elsewhere for their studies forfeited the right to receive the awards as did any student leaving either of the schools.

In cases where a student taking highest marks was unable to continue according to the regulations, the scholarship went by reversion to the one next in line.

S-W Mar-Not—the floor varnish that can “take it”

... month after month

Use Mar-Not on stairways and on the floors of living room, dining room, bedroom, bath or kitchen

THINK of the amazing abuse to which your floors are subjected! The constant tramp, tramp, tramp of nailed heels. The sliding, scuffling little feet. The moving of heavy furniture. Spilled water. Ordinary varnish cannot withstand this merciless punishment. It takes a world's champion to stand up under it month after month and come back for more.

And that is what Mar-Not is—a world's champion. It can take more punishment than any other varnish.

Mar-Not is made especially for use on stairways and on the floors of every room in the house. It has pigskin toughness to resist continuous grind. You may dent the wood but Mar-Not will still cling to its surface. Dries overnight with a rich, long wearing lustre. Hot or cold water does not affect it. And it costs no more than any ordinary varnish.

Mar-Not is one of the many products of Sherwin-Williams, Canada's largest makers of paints, varnishes, lacquers and enamels. In addition to Mar-Not Sherwin-Williams make other varnishes for specific needs:

Scar-Not—the finest varnish for furniture and fine woodwork.

Respar—the king of spar varnishes for exterior use.

Don't wait until floors, woodwork or furniture appear shabby before you varnish them. For best results do it the minute they begin to show wear—and use the S-W varnish recommended for that purpose. At “Paint Headquarters” in your neighborhood you can obtain the famous S-W Household Painting Guide which tells the right paint for every surface. Avoid mistakes by getting your copy now.

DIVORCE COURT BILL IS SENT TO THE SENATE

Commons Gives Third Reading to Measure for Courts in Ontario

Ottawa, May 7.—After a tempestuous hour in which there were four roll call divisions, the House of Commons yesterday gave third reading to the bill to establish divorce courts in Ontario. The vote on third reading stood: Yeas, 100; nays, 85.

The measure is a private one, sponsored by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre.

SENATE TO VOTE
The Divorce Bill now goes to the Senate. Last session the Second Chamber passed a similar bill, but it met defeat in the Commons. This session it was started in the Commons.

The first division came in a motion for A. N. Smith, Liberal, Stormont, Ont., which would have made the bill operative only on the passing of a resolution by the Ontario Legislature bringing it into force in the province. This was defeated by a vote of 65 for to 34 against.

Another amendment by Lieut.-Col. James Arthur, Conservative, Parry Sound, Ont., would have given the bill three months' notice. This was defeated by 46 for to 100 against.

sults indicating that of the total decrease for that period, $5,226,925, was due to the lighter movement of grain and $3,704,762 to the reduced movement of general merchandise in consequence of the lesser purchasing power in the country.

"The expenses of the company have been reduced where possible and will be still further reduced unless traffic conditions improve.

CROP OUTLOOK

"As the shareholders are aware, western Canada suffered from lack of moisture during the fall months of 1929, and, in consequence, the opening of spring found the soil drier than in a normal year. This condition was somewhat relieved so far as surface moisture conditions are concerned by heavy and general falls of snow and rain during April, but further precipitation will be required during May and June before a good crop can be said to be assured."

ECONOMY NEEDED

Dealing with the traffic decrease, Mr. Beatty said that the conditions which have so seriously affected the company's traffic are quite beyond control and that the sole method of meeting them is by strict economy and exceptional efforts on the part of the officers and men.

"I do not need to remind the shareholders that the conditions which have so seriously affected the company's traffic are quite beyond control and that the sole method of meeting them is by strict economy and exceptional efforts on the part of the officers and men.

"One of the most gratifying factors of our present situation has been that the combination of unusual conditions has failed to shake the general confidence throughout Canada," said Mr. Beatty. "The strength of the country has been very effectively proved."

"It is for one not to view prospects with any degree of apprehension, notwithstanding that, in some particulars during the last few months, the situation has been obscure."

economic disadvantages. Consequently, while added prudence in expenditures was immediately brought to bear, the company exercised a restraint with regard to measures which conceivably might have created a worse and more permanent condition of depression.

THEORY AND METHOD

"In other words," continued Mr. Beatty, "reductions in staff were not, in the case of that company, considered advisable until the government system would maintain men in employment at the public expense under conditions which demand measures of retrenchment in the case of a commercial corporation. Nothing perhaps emphasizes more clearly the fundamental difference in the theory and method of operation of the two properties than this and it is, of course, only obvious to state that no such policy could be adopted under the conditions existing in Canada today, by an private company, no matter how broad and humane its policies were. We are of necessity forced to recognize the inevitable consequence of business on the services the company has to perform."

GROSS EARNINGS

"The reductions in our gross earnings during the last eight months were heavy, amounting in the aggregate to $34,980,000. Without traffic to move, there is an inevitable diminution in work to be done, both in train service and in shops. And in such a situation prudent and economic administration are requisite."

"The situation brings into strong relief the narrow margin of surplus which exists under the present Canadian scale of freight rates, even in prosperous times and, in respect of the operation of the strongest and most efficiently operated company. The shareholders will not be surprised, in view of the figures quoted in the annual report, that the company's operating revenue for the year amounted to 3.9 per cent. on their investment in railway property and that the surplus permitted under the transportation act of the United States is an earnings for 1929 would have been over $20,000,000 in excess of what they actually were."

BUSINESS INCREASE

"There is no general or widespread depression in Canada, though several factors, principally the failure to market our grain, have contributed to a slowing up of freight traffic," continued Mr. Beatty. "There is not, however, anything of the fundamental character which should prevent the return of normal business conditions within the next few months. Indeed, we have all been hopeful that the first and perhaps most essential change, both because of its psychological and its commercial effect, namely, the free movement of grain out of the country, would be in evidence during this or next month. If this movement begins, I feel reasonably assured the effect will result in a marked betterment in conditions and granted normal crops, the full business should show an improvement over that of last year. It is not, I think, reasonable to assume the same difficulties in marketing of the grain will be experienced this year, and if this is so, Canada has only a short step to take to reach a position of healthy and general prosperity."

TARIFF CHANGES

"It is probably too early to estimate the possible results of the tariff policies recently announced by the Federal authorities, but it is hoped they will result in a more equitable balance of trade and in the expansion of Canadian industry."

STRENGTH PROVED

"One of the most gratifying factors of our present situation has been that the combination of unusual conditions has failed to shake the general confidence throughout Canada," said Mr. Beatty. "The strength of the country has been very effectively proved."

"It is for one not to view prospects with any degree of apprehension, notwithstanding that, in some particulars during the last few months, the situation has been obscure."

He was testifying at adjournment, giving details as to the condition of the estate at the time of the death of Sir Mortimer Davis.

JULY 28 MAY BE DATE OF FEDERAL ELECTION

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, left to-night for Woodstock, Ont., where he will be the principal speaker at a Liberal banquet. This may be considered the opening gun of the campaign.

UNDER NEW ACT

This will be the first election under the revised Dominion Elections Act. Under it, the time necessary between dissolution and an election was extended from forty to sixty days. This election, instead of using provincial lists, as in the past, an absolutely new list will be prepared. Enumerators will go from house to house.

UNCERTAINTY ENDED
The Prime Minister's announcement, in the Commons yesterday afternoon, ending all uncertainty as to whether the people of Canada would vote this year or next, came immediately after the speech in which Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, had moved his budget amendment.

The opposition leader's speech, in which he had expressed his opinion the government had lost the confidence of the country, said the Prime Minister, made it opportune to say the election he invited would not long be delayed. It was the opinion of the government that it was desirable to hold a general election this year rather than wait the conclusion of another session of Parliament during the course of next year. It was true that under the constitution the present administration was entitled to remain in office until November, 1931. However, the uncertainty of a general election was always apt to be more of a loss prejudicial to the business interests of the country, and that uncertainty also had an unsettling effect on the business of Parliament.

EARLY END OF SESSION
Since, therefore, there was a general expectancy of an election, he ventured to suggest the present session should be brought to an end at the earliest possible date.

Fortunately, continued the Prime Minister, he was in the position that the opposition leader and he himself appeared to be in agreement. Mr. Bennett, he said, had said that the reason why an immediate appeal should be made to the people, some days ago he had indicated his view that because the present session was to be held this year, there should be an appeal to the people. Also last Thursday Mr. Bennett, referring to both the Imperial Conference and the Empire Economic Conference, said the Empire Economic Conference, to be held in September, had observed that he thought it advisable that the people should be given an opportunity of saying what representatives should go to the conferences from Canada.

Having in mind the representation of the present government at the Imperial Conference of 1929, at the conference last year, he, the Prime Minister, believed the people of Canada would be made to be wholly agreeable to having this country represented by the present administration in the ordinary course of events, without an appeal to the electorate.

FRESH MANDATE
However, as the Imperial Conference and the Economic Conference were all important and the voice of Canada would also be of utmost importance, the authority of that voice would be greater in virtue of being expressed by an administration that had just been honored by the confidence of the people. Therefore, he suggested that Mr. Bennett and he might meet to see if they could not come to an agreement whereby the business of the session might be brought to an orderly and speedy conclusion.

He would also like to consult with Mr. Gardiner, leader of the U.F.A. group, along similar lines.

As far as the business of the present Parliament was concerned, the House had had before it nearly all the legislation it was the intention of the government to introduce. There were some amendments to the Criminal Code, and two treaties awaiting ratification, a few bills to be brought down and the reports of one of two committees to be received. But apart from these, the House had a complete survey of what remained to be done.

In view of that, he would say that, having regard to the date of the Imperial Conference, ample opportunity should be given for the preparation of the matters that were to be brought before that assembly, and the more quickly the business of the session could be brought to a conclusion, the sooner could an appeal be made to the people and the better it would be for the country.

MUCH NOISE
The election announcement brought pandemonium into what is usually a staid and orderly assembly. A few minutes before Mr. King arose Conservative members had been cheering and clumping their desks as their leader concluded a speech of more than two hours on the budget, and moved his want of confidence amendment.

This had given place to loud Liberal applause as the Prime Minister rose to answer Mr. Bennett. Then came the announcement and the outburst. Members thumped their desks, cheered, tossed books and papers in the air, and ignored the cries of the Speaker for order.

All the uncertainty of the past month had been changed to certainty, and the members received the news of battle with the abandon of school-boys.

The Prime Minister concluded his statement, and then the members crowded around their respective leaders, talking and cheering. It so happened that the announcement came just before the dinner recess, and consequently there was no need for order until the resumption of the sitting at 8 o'clock. By that time the first jubilation had subsided.

TWO SPEECHES
The budget debate was continued during the evening sitting, William Irvine, U.F.A., Wetaskiwin, and R. S. White, Conservative, Mount Royal, participating. The adjournment was moved by J. T. Thorson, Liberal, Winnipeg, South Centre.

In view of that, he would say that, having regard to the date of the Imperial Conference, ample opportunity should be given for the preparation of the matters that were to be brought before that assembly, and the more quickly the business of the session could be brought to a conclusion, the sooner could an appeal be made to the people and the better it would be for the country.

B.C. TO BENEFIT BY EXPERIMENT SAYS LIBRARIAN

Dr. Helen Stewart Tells of Far-reaching Results Hoped From Demonstration

50,000,000 People in Canada and U.S. Outside Library Service at Present

"While the Fraser Valley is the centre of the library demonstration for the moment, it is to be a laboratory for the whole of British Columbia, for we are using it to experiment and find out under properly controlled conditions the library needs to suit the whole of the province," explained Dr. Helen Stewart in the course of an illuminating address on "The Library Demonstration," before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Stewart outlined the scheme under which the Carnegie Corporation agreed to give to the Provincial Government $100,000 through the Library Commission for the purpose of establishing a library experiment to last five years, in order to test out the best sort of library service for those districts at present untouched by such service. In this connection the speaker observed that in Canada and the United States 50,000,000 people lived outside the reach of library service, and of this number 7,000,000 lived in towns, and the balance in the rural areas.

The Carnegie Corporation was inspired to undertake this experiment for four reasons, Dr. Stewart continued. First, to help the people get good reading matter; second, because in the last few years everything in connection with reading in social life had undergone a revolutionary change, and librarians had been faced with the need to find a better way of meeting their obligations to the reading public; third, at no time had rural people had the same chance of mental stimulation as those living in the urban centres, it being fallacious to suppose that the farmer was "of cloddish mind" and content with his hoe and his incubator; fourth, because the corporation conceived the idea of a library in the country as a support and needs as good a reading service as his neighbor in the largest city, and it was to spend $100,000 to prove it.

STABLE SERVICE.—The demonstration in British Columbia, plans were made to set up a service unit as solid, stable and substantial as in a large city. The aim of the unit was to be large enough to ensure self-maintenance, but not too large for handling from one centre. With this in view a tentative territory had been chosen from Ladang to Hope and from the top of the municipalities bordering on the Fraser River, down to the international boundary. Chilliwack is to be the centre for distribution purposes, and branches will be arranged in Abbotsford, Mission, Cloverdale, Langley, Prairie, Ladner and other centres.

PERMANENT LIBRARY.—From Chilliwack a perambulating library will be sent out, carrying between 1,000 and 1,500 volumes, with which to replenish the supplies at the branches, and also which service will be given to the rural settlers direct. These people will be able to change their books at this bus, a great boon on many of the lonely farmers and their families. Trained men will go out with a bus and to the outlying branches, thus supplying the trained "salesmanship," the lack of which has constituted one of the weaknesses of the traveling libraries hitherto in operation. Dr. Stewart pointed out.

The speaker's particular work in connection with the experiment was to find out the reaction of the community to the scheme, to ascertain the effect of books upon the community, whether, if any, they actually found out way of giving a service to groups rather than individuals, and then to consolidate the results of the experiment and make it the basis for similar schemes elsewhere.

Dr. P. B. Seurath presided at the meeting. Mrs. S. E. Farr, in thanking the speaker, presented her with a copy of the club's book, "Pioneer Women of Vancouver Island." The speaker unanimously voted a donation of $50 to the Victorian Order of Nurses.

In place of the usual musical number, the club was entertained by Mrs. Wilfred Ord, who recited with much spirit "The Torch of Life" (Sir Henry Newbolt) and "Sea Fever" (Macneil).

Canadian Daughters.—The regular monthly business meeting of the Far West Assembly, No. 80 Canadian Daughters' League will be held in the New Thought Hall, 780, Fort Street, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Owing to the indisposition of the president, the installation of officers has been postponed until the last meeting of the month.

MANY EASTER GIFTS TO HOME

Protestant Orphans Received Generous Donations of Buns and Eggs

Seventeen dozen hot cross buns from generous friends and the annual gift from Henry Bullock of Salt Spring Island of a case of fresh eggs for the children at Easter were among the many donations welcomed by the Protestant Orphan's Home last month, according to the report presented at the monthly meeting of the ladies' committee yesterday afternoon.

LINEN SHOWER SUCCESS.—The report of the visiting committee further noted: "We paid the usual number of weekly visits to the Home during April and found all well with the exception of a few cases of a light form of 'flu' which was then prevalent. These are at the present time quite well again."

The usual generous gift of a case of fresh eggs for Easter was received from Mr. Henry Bullock of Salt Spring Island, and was much appreciated. Mr. Bullock has also been kind enough to take another of our larger boys into his employ on the island, and we hope that the boy will make good use of this splendid opportunity. Rev. J. B. Rowell has visited the Home each Thursday and addressed the children. Friends of the Home again remembered the children by their gifts of Hot Cross Buns for Good Friday, seventeen dozen in all being received. The annual Easter linen shower was held at the Home on April 10, and proved a success, a welcome addition of the required articles being added to our linen stock, one kind friend having kindly by hand a face cloth for each child.

The Gyo Club have generously paid the necessary fees at the Y.M.C.A. to enable eight of our boys to avail themselves of the privileges of the association during the coming season.

The necessary quantity of eggs for preserving for winter use has been purchased. The Girl Guides of the Home were taken by their captain, Miss Y. George, for a tramp in the country last Saturday, the Rangers providing the refreshments. The ladies of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church kindly provided car fare for the children in attendance at their church. There are at present in the Home, forty-eight children, twenty-nine girls and nineteen boys.

FRIENDLY HELP FUNDS ARE LOW

550 Persons Assisted in April; Many Easter Gifts Distributed

During the month of April 150 cases, representing 550 persons, were assisted by the Friendly Help Association. These cases consisted of sixty-eight families, nineteen couples, sixteen widows with children, ten widows, three brothers and sisters, twenty-four lone men, nine deserted wives with children and one out of town.

SUPPLIES GIVEN OUT

So ran the report presented at the monthly meeting of the association yesterday, Mrs. Cullum presiding, and twelve members present. Supplies given to these cases were made up as follows:

lowest: eighty-four and groceries, twenty-one had fuel (eleven coal and ten wood); fifty-seven had milk daily; fifty-four had meat more than once; and one pair of children's new shoes bought; fifty-four got clothing; seventy-six got provisions as eggs, eggs, jam, rolled oats, chocolate eggs, sandwiches, cake, bread, rice, rhubarb, potatoes and dripping; six got sundries, as stove, bed, mattresses, toys, child's chairs, curtains, etc., and one family got a goat.

FUNDS ARE LOW

The call for assistance is still great, but it is hoped as spring work opens up men will get employment and so relieve the situation. The Friendly Help funds are extremely low, so cash donations will be most appreciated and thankfully received.

The next regular meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday, June 10, as the first Tuesday of the month will be the King's birthday.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Edger will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

IF BABY'S DIET IS OUT OF BALANCE SIGNS ARE UNMISTAKABLE

It isn't at all unusual for children at one time or another during the first two years to have some degree of amoniacal urine. The tiny baby's diet is not well balanced when this happens. The older child may be overfed or be eating a diet that has too many acid ash foods, not well balanced by the alkali ash foods.

Mothers get terribly mixed up about this. So read this very carefully or you'll be accusing me of saying something which I did not say. Cereals, bread, eggs, meat and fats are the acid ash foods usually found in the baby's diet. Without the alkali ash foods—vegetables, nuts, milk and fruits—the diet is out of kilter and nature tries to balance it by making greater effort herself. The result is an amoniacal urine that may be so strong as to burn baby, and almost suffocate his mother.

INCREASE ALKALI ASH FOODS

Whenever the baby's diaper becomes strongly amoniacal, we must find what needs correction in the diet. The method that usually brings instant relief is to give the child more vegetable soup with sliced vegetables in it, and to increase the amount of orange juice or tomato juice daily. Any of these foods is capable of bringing back the alkaline balance essential for good health.

Sometimes the bottle baby or even the breast fed baby is taking a milk that has too much fat (cream) and in addition may be taking cod liver oil. These fats are acid ash foods, and some babies do not digest fat well at any time. Teething or a cold may so temporarily upset them that they have even less ability to digest the fats, and the result is a strongly amoniacal urine.

Skimmed milk, plus the orange or tomato juice and the vegetable juices mentioned before, ought to end it speedily. Then the mother can add the cream to the formula, again spoonful by spoonful until she reaches the point at which the amoniacal urine warns her she is giving too much. Keep below that point. And don't forget the alkali ash foods.

AVOID CARELESS LAUNDRING

Diapers which are used twice without washing (a careless practice) may become strong, even though the diet is all right. All diapers should be taken off as soon as wet and not used again until well washed. This washing consists of a scrubbing in hot soap suds, a good rinsing and drying out in the air and sun for as long as possible. Taken off the line after a day in the sunshine they are soft and sweet smelling and there will be no chance for a harmless bacteria, which when united with urine causes an amoniacal odor, to be present. If this doesn't help, or there are successive days of no sun, have the druggist show you how to make a mild solution of bichloride of mercury in which the diapers can be rinsed. This should not be necessary in summer.

English Arbitrator of Fashions Gives Berlin Women Twelve Rules

Berlin, May 7.—Captain Edward Molyneux, the Englishman who makes Paris fashions and who has been staying here, has given the women of Berlin the following twelve rules to observe if they want to be fashionable this summer:

1. The elegant woman has no knees. She can only have them when she bathes.
2. The dresses of the Berlin woman are far too short.
3. Ankles are only allowed during the afternoon.
4. The "knee box" type belongs to the past, with the crimoline and the powdered wig.
5. The re-birth of the quite short skirt is out of the question.
6. Big, bigger, and very big hats will cause the elegant women of the world.
7. For the morning, beige tweeds, with pleated skirts and mantles to go with them.
8. Black-and-whites dominate the afternoon in gorette and other simple stuff.
9. In the evenings a riot of color in Greek lines.
10. With the evening gown very elegant flesh-color gloves.
11. The hair in feminine waves, with curls which cover the forehead, the neck, but no Greta Garbo coiffure.
12. Bright chiffons for summer evening gowns.

Lake Hill Women Plan Exhibition For August 27

The monthly meeting of Lake Hill Women's Institute was held yesterday afternoon with a good attendance of members, and the president, Mrs. M. J. Smith, reported that the date of the annual exhibition was fixed for August 27. Mrs. P. J. Smith, general convener, and the executive to consist of the board of officers and a committee of executive will be held on Friday, May 18, to arrange the prize list and other details in connection with the fair. A special committee will be made to exhibit at the Victoria Fall Fair. An invitation was accepted to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the new unit of the Institute, on May 14, and as many members as possible are urged to attend. A campaign to rid the district of caterpillars is planned under the convener of the school committee, Mrs. Service and Mrs. Findlay. Children may obtain further information from these ladies.

Two successful card parties and a silver tea were reported for April, and Mrs. Currie reported that she had bought and distributed seed potatoes to members. Mrs. Moody read a very entertaining paper on her recent trip to California, also showing some interesting pictures, which was much appreciated.

During the meeting Mrs. Carpenter distributed to each member a card, asking each one to contribute the initials W.I. in one corner; when completed they were presented to the Executive and Mrs. Findlay for prizes awarded to Mrs. Wyles for the best workmanship. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Porter served afternoon tea and a social half-hour was spent.

Primrose Lodge—The business meeting of Lodge Primrose No. 32, Daughters of England, will be held on Friday, May 9, in the R.C. Hall. Lodge will open at 8 o'clock prompt. Members will please bring contributions, as the proposed amendments and propositions for the coming Grand Lodge sessions will be dealt with. A good attendance of members is requested.

For the tea table and parties, colored lost sugar in card figures is available. Colored sugar also comes in various flavors now.

J.B.A.A. to Hold Popular Dance Saturday Night

The James Bay Athletic Association will hold another of its popular dances at the clubhouse at the Gorge on Saturday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. An excellent four-piece orchestra is in attendance. The association has effected a number of improvements at the clubhouse, which will add much to the convenience of patrons, while the addition of curtains in the club colors and other furnishings will much enhance the appearance of the setting for the occasion.

Greater Victoria A.Y.P. to Hold Dance Friday

Under the auspices of the Anglican Young People's Association of Greater Victoria a dance will be held in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, on Friday evening, May 8, from 8 to 10 o'clock. A good orchestra and refreshments assure an enjoyable evening. Members of the six branches, St. John's, St. James', St. Mary's, St. Barnabas', St. Mark's and St. Michael's, Royal Oak, have been busy selling tickets for the last three weeks and it is expected that a large number of members and their friends will be present, especially in view of the fact that the proceeds are going to the fund which is being raised to help interested members to attend a leaders' training camp being held on Gable Island in July.

BIG STORM IN TEXAS KILLS SEVENTEEN

A fifteen-year-old boy and child near Ennis.
Two men, two women and three negroes at Byrum.
Two men at San Antonio and Brownsville.
Kennedy, ten miles from El Paso, reported twelve deaths, but it was believed some of the fatalities were accounted for in the Runge list.
Striking yesterday afternoon, the tornado took the greatest toll of life at Frost, in east central Texas, and at Runge in south central Texas. The force of the storm was felt in virtually all sections of the state. Navarro, Hill, McLennan and Ellis counties in central Texas and Karnes in the southern part of the state bore the brunt of the storm.
National Guardsmen, firemen and volunteers were working early today in the debris at Frost, where it was feared the death toll would mount higher. Nearly every building in the town was demolished.

Sir Charles Phillips Trevelyan, Minister of Education in the British government, who arrived in Montreal aboard the Cunard liner Atlantic yesterday, plans to start out on foot on a walking tour of Canada as far west as the Rockies. She intends if possible to get through to Vancouver and Victoria.

MRS. TATE, PIONEER OF B.C., DIES SUDDENLY
Many hardships were endured by Mr. and Mrs. Tate in their early days in missionary work in British Columbia. The magnificent residential work at Doquilest is the direct outcome of the pioneer school started by Mr. and Mrs. Tate when they had charge of the work among the Chilliwack Indians. The need for some place where the Indian children might be kept during their school days was so apparent that the Tates took sixteen children into their home—a tremendous undertaking for Mrs. Tate in those days of primitive conveniences.

INDIAN PUPILS
Two years later the Women's Missionary Society, impressed by the courage of these pioneer workers, made a grant for the school and a building was erected. Three years later this building went up in flames, and Mr. and Mrs. Tate again opened their hospitable doors to the Indian children. The insurance on the old building and grant from the government permitted the building of a larger school, accommodating for students and a staff of teachers, which has since been replaced by a building accommodating twice as many pupils and staff.

HEALTH SINCE 1880
The work of Mr. and Mrs. Tate at Chilliwack was interrupted for a year while Mr. Tate organized missions at Fort Bentley and Clayquot, then returned to Chilliwack. Later they were sent to Duncan, where they resided for eleven years. In 1888 Mr. and Mrs. Tate came to Victoria, working among the Indians of Victoria, Esquimalt, and west Saanich and Patricia Bay, and had resided here ever since. In addition to her husband, the late Mrs. Tate is survived by two brothers, Charles Knott, in Hamilton, Ont., and Alfred H. Knott of Victoria, who is now in the east attending the funeral of their brother, John; also two sisters, Miss Emma Knott of this city and Mrs. Wagner of New Westminster.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of McCall Bros. and will be announced later.

First Round European Zone Davis Cup Tennis Play Completed

THE SPORTS MIRROR

BIG JOE JERWA and Jack Beattie, who roared in the den of the Vancouver Lions last season, will go down this fall. Lester Patrick, the keen hockey veteran, has picked them out of the western sticks to perform for the big fellow from Galt.

Lester had his eye on Joe Jerwa for quite a little while. The husky defense caught his eye when he first saw the Lions play and on one occasion the shrewd Ranger skipper predicted a brilliant hockey future for the big fellow from Galt.

Patrick evidently thinks that Joe is ready for big time and has signed him for the Rangers. Jerwa was one of the leading defense men of the Pacific Coast League last season and always one of the mainstays of the champion Lions.

While Lester has not yet announced his plans for the two westerners, it appears probable that Jerwa will fill the gap left in the Ranger's defense by the split up in the Johnson-Abel combination, which was formerly a big factor in the Ranger triumph.

The Rangers were inclined to be weak in the back division owing to the fact they were minus a good man to replace Abel and went to Chicago. Jerwa should work well alongside a man like Johnson.

Incidentally the deal may have a good effect on the coast circuit in that it will weaken the Lions to a certain extent, making the competition a little more intensive than it has been the last two seasons, when the Terminal City team had things a good deal their own way.

This lad Beattie will go to New York as he is fast, a good back-checker and has hockey brains.

Give the little boy a hand. Norm Forbes, Elk's pitcher, achieved the main ambition of every baseball hurler when he twirled his team to a no-hit no-run victory over the Eagles Monday night.

A no-hit no-run game to a baseball pitcher is about the same as a hole-in-one to a golfer. Only it's different. For one thing there are fewer of them and in any event, a dodo at golf is about seventy-five per cent luck.

A no-hit no-run ball game is about ninety-nine and a half per cent honest to goodness hard work and skill. The other half per cent is for breaks in the game which every ball club needs.

Early indications are that there will be some real hot stuff sent around the ball circuit this season. It is more or less a foregone conclusion that the Elks and Jokers will be fighting it out for the championship, but there is strength in the other clubs which may result in a number of big surprises.

The victory of Clarence DeMar of Boston in the recent marathon, in which it is said, his grandchildren followed him in an automobile along the course, calls to mind the fact that some very antiquated people are dragging their weary old bones around on baseball diamonds, and they are not quite ready to quit doing it, either.

Among them is Charles Jamieson of the Cleveland Indians, who gathered his folks around him last February and celebrated his thirty-seventh birthday. During the first few weeks of the 1930 baseball campaign, the name of Jamieson led all the rest in the department of abusing pitchers. Somewhere above 500. He does it every spring.

The age of Jack Quinn is down in the books as forty-five years old, still pitching for the Athletics, but they say Jack isn't at all sure whether he was born in 1885 or 1865.

Danny Vance was thirty-seven years old in March, and if he can get that old, he'll win lots of games for Uncle Robbie's Dodgers this year. On Robbie's staff is the venerable Havana player, Adolfo Luque, who is thirty-eight years old. The Squire of Playball is also paying Rube Bressler for playing ball, and the Rube is close to thirty-five, and batted .318 in 134 ball games last year.

One of these days soon you will see where Red Faber of the White Sox has eased up a trifle and given somebody four hits in a ball game. Faber was born in Cascade, Ia., about thirty-five years ago.

National League pitchers, to date, haven't been having a whole lot of fun getting Harry Heilmann out. The former Detroit, in his fifteenth major league season, and near his thirty-sixth birthday, has been batting clean-up for the Reds this year, and doing a pretty fair job of it, too. If they insist on throwing him curve balls, Heilmann will be right there in that same spot until he's forty at least.

Over in Washington, on first base, is perched the reliable Joe Judge, still swinging a potent bat at thirty-six years of age. At short for the Braves, is a frisky gent nearly thirty-eight years old, Rabbit Maranville, starting his 19th year in the majors. The other day Bing Miller broke up a ball game with a home run for the Reds, and Bing will be thirty-six when August rolls around. Sam Rice, the lively Washington outfielder, played 110 games last year, hit .323 and is just a bit beyond thirty-eight years old.

When August 23 comes it will bring a fortieth birthday to Wally Schang. Connie Mack ought to let Jack Quinn pitch that day and Wally catch. The combined ages of the battery would be near enough to 100 years to call it centenarians' day.

And, oh, yes. Some fellow just put thirty-five years old in playing field for the New York Yankees.

SHADE-HECTOR BOUT FAILS TO GET APPROVAL

After Nine Rounds Los Angeles Bout is Declared "No Contest"

"Honey Boy" Finnegan Scores Fifty-second K.O.; Les Marriner Wins

Los Angeles, May 7.—The scheduled ten-round bout between Dave Shade, Concord, Calif., middleweight contender, and Mike Hector, former navy champion, ended in the ninth round and was declared "no contest" here yesterday evening.

Shade led all the way but the fight appeared slow. In the seventh round both fighters went to the canvas in a clinch and Hector appeared in pain, indicating he had been hit low.

The former navy fighter was helped to his corner and after a few minutes continued the fight.

The no-contest ruling automatically suspended the boxers pending investigation by the Athletic Commission.

Their purses will be held up. Shade is scheduled to meet Ace Rudkins in a ten-round bout here on May 20.

PORTLAND BATTLES WINS
Portland, May 7.—George Dixon, Portland, took a ten-round decision over Cowboy Jack Williams, San Francisco, in the main event of a fight card here yesterday evening.

Dixon weighed 161, Willis 162½. Eddie Volk, Portland, took a six-round decision over Ray Archer, Tacoma. Volk weighed 180½; Archer 190½.

K.O. FOR SIMPSON
Santa Fe, N.M., May 7.—Eddie Mack, 135, Alamosa, Colo., knocked out Johnny Simpson, 155, New Orleans, in the third round of a ten-round bout here yesterday evening.

FIFTY-SECONDS KNOCKOUT
San Bernardino, Cal., May 7.—Dick "Honey Boy" Finnegan, Boston lightweight, scored a quick knockout over Clyde "Lightning" Davis, Los Angeles negro, here yesterday evening, dropping his opponent with a right hook in fifty seconds.

A swarm of punches in the fifth sent Davis to the mat, where he stayed until counted out. He claimed caustic placed in a cut over his left eye blinded him temporarily.

SAYS HE WAS BLINDED
Indianapolis, May 7.—Les Marriner, Chicago heavyweight, scored a knockout over Jack League of San Antonio, in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here yesterday evening.

A swarm of punches in the fifth sent League to the mat, where he stayed until counted out. He claimed caustic placed in a cut over his left eye blinded him temporarily.

CHANCES FOR VON PORAT-GRIFFITHS MATCH ARE SLIM

Promoters Unable to Sign Tuffy For Bout With Norwegian Battler

Chicago, May 7.—Otto Von Porat, stiff punching Norwegian heavyweight, still has not an opportunity to meet Donald Ambrose (Tuffy) Griffith in the Chicago Stadium or anywhere else, at least in the near future.

Efforts to sign Griffith following his ten-round decision over Jack Gagnon, Boston sailor, who stopped him in six rounds at Philadelphia last month, have been unavailing and stadium officials have abandoned the project.

NO CHANGE IN RULES
Detroit, May 7.—The Michigan boxing commission declined yesterday to give its sanction to any deviation from the rules regarding fouls in the welterweight championship bout between Jackie Fields and young Jack Thompson at Olympia Stadium Friday night.

Glenn Rooney, manager for the champion, brought up the subject and proposed that in event of an injury from a low blow the fight be stopped for five minutes or more in order to allow the fouled fighter to recover.

Thompson's manager, Ray Alvis, who previously had been represented as agreeing to this procedure, objected.

KING TUT RULED OUT
Milwaukee, Wis., May 7.—Dr. R. O. Brunkhorst, state boxing commission physician, yesterday ruled out King Tut, a Minneapolis lightweight, for his ten-round fight Thursday with Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., negro.

The doctor said Tut had a large carbuncle on his right arm. Billy Mitchell, Amateur Fight Club matchmaker, said he hoped to get either Stanislaus Loyosa or Ignacio Ferdinand, to replace Tut on the card.

ALL BASEBALL PLAYERS INSANE THIS FAN SAYS

Chicago, May 7.—Louis H. Gemmett, seventy-one, who has been a ball-fan for three-score years, yesterday carried to prohibit Judge Henry Horner, his sixteen-year-old effort to have all baseball players declared insane. Judge Horner is the eighth United States judge visited by Gemmett in his weird cause.

Gemmett declared that ball players are not quite right because hitters race to first base, though then do not know whether or not a mate will hammer them around to a score, because one pitcher isn't enough to fool a batter—there should be two at once; because an umpire shouldn't make the final ruling, and games shouldn't be called on account of rain—there should be a canopy suspended by balloons.

Decision was postponed.

Changes in Major Standings Expected in Congress at Seattle

Seattle, May 7.—Several changes were expected to be made by midnight to-night in the standings of the Eighteenth Annual Northwestern International Bowling Congress with many "big guns" from Spokane, Tacoma, Everett, Bremerton, Puyallup, B.C., and Seattle opening fire. To-day was the sixth day of the tournament which ends next Sunday night.

The Times five of Seattle rolled into third place in the five-man major class last night with a score of 3,600, and the H. J. Frolich Clothing Co. five of Everett, forged into fourth place with five less pins.

The Portland Recreation Company of Portland, riding in third place since last Saturday, was forced into fifth.

In the commercial five-man division the Pacific Match Co. of Tacoma, slipped into seventh place with 3,574. The City Lumber Co. of Tacoma, and the South Tacoma Merchants No. 1 took eleventh and twelfth, respectively, with scores of 2,553 and 2,531.

These were the only changes made last night in the various classes of the tournament. To-night, however, several changes are expected. An automobile accident on the Tacoma-Seattle highway forced the South Tacoma Merchants No. 2 team to withdraw from the congress last night.

Scores in the commercial class last night included the following: Bremerton Commercial League of Bremerton, 2,837; Dr. Lov's Five of Spokane, 2,527; Dr. Cooper's Alleys, Tacoma, 2,509; and Vulcan Dynamiters, Everett, 2,350.

Giants Continue to Pound Ball, Four Home Runs Giving Them Win Over Pittsburgh; Philadelphia and Cleveland Maintain Tie at Top of American League With Victories; Walberg Wins His Fourth Successive Game; Boston in Hard Luck.

Boston Red Sox already have gone a long way toward taking the role of "hard luck" team of the major leagues for the current season.

Chicago White Sox yesterday nosed out a 4 to 3 victory after Boston had a three-run lead, with Ed Morris doing a fine pitching job.

Yankees lost a 7 to 3 decision to Cleveland. They lost a three-run lead in the sixth inning. Earl Averill, Cleveland centre fielder, started two double plays.

Philadelphia Athletics won their sixth successive game, defeating the St. Louis Browns 4 to 1 behind the fine pitching of Babe Wertz, to hold their tie with Cleveland for the league leadership. It was Walberg's fourth victory in a row.

Washington beat out Detroit 5 to 4. The abrupt end of Brooklyn's seven-game winning streak was the feature of the National League's afternoon.

Chicago Cubs won by a 3 to 1 score. All the runs came in the first inning, with homers by Hack Wilson and Babe Herman providing the impetus.

New York Giants took their second successive game from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11 to 0. Four home runs in the first eight innings gave them a lead.

At Cincinnati, Harry Selig of the Boston Braves got the decision over Pete Donohue by a 4 to 3 count. Philadelphia and St. Louis were kept idle by rain.

Baseball fans at the Royal Athletic Park to-night will see an early-season fight to evade the cellar position when Jack Bacon's Sons of Canada clash with the Eagles.

The Sons and Eagles were the defeated teams in the first two games of the schedule, both suffering under some clever pitching by opposing moundmen.

To-night's fracas is billed to start at 6-15 o'clock. Jack Noble, who has been chucking ball here for a number of years, will undertake mound duty for the Sons, while opposing him will be Bill Holness, the Eagles' youthful twirler.

Owing to the fact that the Tillicum Athletic Club was unable to field a ball team this year, a revision of the schedule has been necessary. The Tillicum were slated to play this evening, but they have not enough players available.

On Friday night the Jokers and Elks, who appear to be the best beta of the league this year, will meet under the revised schedule.

"STEP UP MR. CARNERA AND TAKE YOUR MEDICINE," SAYS SEVEN-FOOT-EIGHT FRENCH GIANT, WEIGHING 415 POUNDS

Fernand Contat, giant Frenchman, standing in the centre of a group of ordinary sized people. Contat's greatest desire is to battle Primo Carnera, the huge Italian boxer whose ring appearances in the United States have attracted so much attention.

WEIGHES 415 POUNDS
The Frenchman is a physical freak who, like Primo Carnera, in his pre-barbarian days, goes in for exhibitions in titanic struggles. When down to "working weight," though he can find little work to do, he whistles the scales to 415 pounds and his waist, proportionately, is slim. Possessed of as much courage as he has brute strength, he naturally is green-eyed over the profits and publicity that Carnera has cornered.

The French boy, who is still filling out at 28, is particularly scornful about the feet that have made Carnera famous. Journe, former boxer who discovered Carnera, always claimed that he tracked him down by following his giant footprints in the mud and that Carnera was barefoot because he could find no shoes to fit him. But Fernand says that his shoe would make Carnera's look like Cinderella's slipper.

Then, as to eating, another claim to Carnera's greatness: Fernand says there would be nothing to it if they were matched. He modestly pointed out that, like all good Frenchmen, he breakfasts lightly. But instead of being satisfied with one cake, he eats three. At other meals, his nourishment would put Primo completely out of form.

COCKTAILS IN BEER GLASSES
He likes a few cocktails before dinner, and has them served in beer glasses. A loaf of bread split in half, lengthwise, makes him a fairly substantial sandwich. A leg of lamb put before him is handled very informally, like a chicken drumstick. A roast receives very little money from his circus engagements, but since he also gets his board, room and clothing, he considers himself very well paid.

Everything else Carnera has to be especially for him, with about twice the usual amount of material. Nobody wants him for a boarder—even the boarders themselves, for Fernand easily can reach the entire length of a dining table. The cater, however, find him excellent publicity and seldom charge him more than the regular amounts for meals and steins of wine or cocktails.

NEITHER DOES HE
As for boxing, M. Contat doesn't claim to know very much. But neither does Carnera, he grows, pointing to the California State Athletic Commission after the Oakland fiasco. He certainly can outreach the Italian, and believes he can outbox him if they ever meet.

"I can learn more about the boxing game, too," said Fernand. "Enough to take care of myself with ease, I think. But this Carnera that they think is so big—a wish the rich Americans would give us a chance to perform together."

Eligibles For $50,000 Classic Hold Workouts; Gallant Fox in Condition

Baltimore, April 7.—With post time less than three days away all but one of the likely starters in the Preakness at Pimlico on Friday refrained from workouts yesterday but four eligibles were given a chance to stretch their legs.

Gallant Fox, the Belair Stud's hope in the $50,000 added classic and heavy favorite for the Kentucky Derby next week, now apparently is considered in top condition because of his recent victory in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica over Desert Light and other eligibles—and is taking it easy.

Snowflake, Walter J. Selmon's filly, considered a probable starter, worked three-quarters yesterday in 1:16 4-5.

Skid, owned by Mrs. J. Simpson Dean, brought in a half mile in 49 1-5, Selmon's Perfect Fly stepped three-quarters in 1:17 and Willie Sharpe Kimm's Sun Falcon was timed in 1:40 3-5 at one mile.

Fernand Contat Takes His Cocktails in Beer Steins and Eats Three Dozen Cakes For Breakfast; Would Like to Cash in on Some of El Primo's Earnings But Hates to Pick on Anyone Smaller Than Himself

Paris, May 7.—Fernand Contat is very, very sorry that Primo Carnera's great American treasure hunt appears to be almost ended. For the banning of the Man Mountain of Italy from the prize ring of two states doubtless will cast giantism into considerable disrepute among the boxing fans. This being the case, Fernand Contat may just as well go back to his French carnival company and forget about the fortunes which once were available in the prize fight push-over business.

Fernand, you may have guessed, is a pretty big boy. In fact looking down from his altitude of 7 feet, 8 inches, he will tell you that the ponderous Primo is only a pygmy. He insists that if he were placed in a prize ring, there just wouldn't be room for anybody else.

Fernand also is willing—and anxious—to pick on Primo first, as the man nearest approaching his own size.

Fernand also is willing—and anxious—to pick on Primo first, as the man nearest approaching his own size.

WEIGHES 415 POUNDS
The Frenchman is a physical freak who, like Primo Carnera, in his pre-barbarian days, goes in for exhibitions in titanic struggles. When down to "working weight," though he can find little work to do, he whistles the scales to 415 pounds and his waist, proportionately, is slim. Possessed of as much courage as he has brute strength, he naturally is green-eyed over the profits and publicity that Carnera has cornered.

The French boy, who is still filling out at 28, is particularly scornful about the feet that have made Carnera famous. Journe, former boxer who discovered Carnera, always claimed that he tracked him down by following his giant footprints in the mud and that Carnera was barefoot because he could find no shoes to fit him. But Fernand says that his shoe would make Carnera's look like Cinderella's slipper.

Then, as to eating, another claim to Carnera's greatness: Fernand says there would be nothing to it if they were matched. He modestly pointed out that, like all good Frenchmen, he breakfasts lightly. But instead of being satisfied with one cake, he eats three. At other meals, his nourishment would put Primo completely out of form.

COCKTAILS IN BEER GLASSES
He likes a few cocktails before dinner, and has them served in beer glasses. A loaf of bread split in half, lengthwise, makes him a fairly substantial sandwich. A leg of lamb put before him is handled very informally, like a chicken drumstick. A roast receives very little money from his circus engagements, but since he also gets his board, room and clothing, he considers himself very well paid.

PLANT HABITS ARE EXPLAINED TO GARDENERS

Victoria Horticultural Society Hears Address By Professor Davidson of Vancouver

Substitution of Cultivation For Heavy Water Supply Is Advised

Advising that "more hoes and less hose" become the motto of the home gardener of Victoria, Professor John Davidson of the University of British Columbia yesterday evening gave an address on Botanical hints for amateur gardeners before the Victoria Horticultural Society at the City Hall.

Professor Davidson commented upon the lack of botanical knowledge exhibited by professional and amateur gardeners, serious mistakes being due to undertaking work by rule of thumb. "Such gardeners are like the average owner of a camera, they can press the button but they cannot finish the picture," he remarked.

EXPLORES FALLACY
 Instruments which measure the amount of water required by plants with charts the manner whereby plants obtain their sustenance. "One of the most common fallacies among gardeners is that plants get their sustenance from the soil. Only between one and one-and-a-half per cent. of the food of a plant is derived from the soil, the bulk being from the air. The food of plants is made up of the same constituents as we ourselves require, but we do not get it in the same way. We allow the plant to work for us, to manufacture its food and then we come along and devour it," he said.

The lecturer gave a detailed description of the structure of plants and told of the functions of the epiderm, palisades, cells and veins of the leaf, which was described as the most modern manufacturing plant one could imagine. There was nothing more ingenious than the mechanism of a leaf. The small portion of the mineral which was absorbed from the soil through the absorbing cells and root lines in solution, passed up through the bole of the plant into the leaves, where the hydrogen from the ground and the carbon from the atmosphere were processed into a food which then went back through the bark to the roots, which are the last of the tree or plant to be the whole system working automatically.

SELF-PROTECTION
 When trees or plants are at their best, the evaporating surface and the absorbing surface maintain balance. When leaves are seen drooping from a tree under natural circumstances, the tree is then cutting them out in order to protect itself.

Referring to the outside skin, like a layer of varnish, and which botanists call the cuticle, Professor Davidson said its function was to prevent evaporation and provide rigidity as well as to prevent fungi attacking the plant.

CULTIVATION URGED

"Gardening becomes far more interesting if you know the why of things," Professor Davidson continued. "Anything you can do to increase concentration of sap within the plant tends to produce more flowers and more fruit. Anything you do to lessen that concentration tends to produce more wood and more foliage. The secret of successful plant culture is less size and more concentration. Gardeners often put a plant in an unnatural condition. The more they sprinkle, the less cuticle the plant grows, and the less cuticle, the more it requires. The application of the hose instead of the plant to get water from the soil, which was most essential and the natural way."

EXHIBITION PRAISED

The chairman congratulated the Vancouver Island Horticultural Society on its recent successful exhibition, and the Victoria Horticultural Society on again winning first prize for the district exhibit. He presented H. Walter, with the cup awarded the party arranging the winning exhibit.

Dr. Price and P. R. Leighton reported on the reception accorded the delegation to the government in connection with city beautification, and a number of members present volunteered to work on the society's plot near the Boys' Central School on Friday night.

Winners of the monthly competition for members resulted as follows: the exhibits being confined to tulips: 1. Mrs. Darius; 2. Mrs. Price; 3. Mrs. Armit.

Varied Business At General Meeting Of Britannia Branch

Discussion of pension matters, reports on the growth of the organization and instructions to delegates for the provincial convention, featured the business at the general meeting of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., in the club rooms yesterday evening.

Following an intensive discussion on pension matters, it was reported by Comrade Lambert, former chairman of the committee in charge of this department, that some action was expected shortly. During the meeting, Comrade J. P. D. spoke of the increase in membership, noting that fourteen new men had been enrolled at the meeting.

Final instructions were given to the branch's representatives who will go to Nelson in June for the provincial convention. Reports were submitted by the various committees and adopted as satisfactory. Comrade Thomas Dempster, president of the branch, was given great praise for the way he had carried out his duties during his short term of office.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

Very often the spring luncheon problem can be solved by serving some sort of a toasted sandwich. Languid appetites are still too expensive to be bought in great variety, and a large amount of meat is not desirable, so the home-maker must give much time and thought to the presenting of old friends in new and interesting guise. When toast forms the framework, many trite foods become interesting and satisfactory to an entire family. A toasted sandwich, a glass of milk and fresh or stewed fruit makes an ideal luncheon for either children or adults. Very often meat can be combined with vegetables in nourishing and appetizing ways. Some of these combinations make a salad unnecessary, while others require a crisp salad of some sort to complete the meal.

The open sandwich furnishes an excellent means for serving delicate spring vegetables in their own juice. The toast absorbs the moisture clinging to the vegetable and also acts as a "stretcher."

Creamed meats, fish or vegetables are wholesome "fillings" for open or closed sandwiches. Here again meats and vegetables can be combined, and the novelty of them makes it possible to serve nourishing foods so they will be welcomed by everybody. An excellent breakfast sandwich combines toast, spinach and poached eggs. Hot, crisp broiled bacon with sliced tomatoes or lettuce between thin slices of hot buttered toast is a good combination for breakfast, luncheon or supper. These toasted sandwiches make it possible to include vegetables in the breakfast menu in a pleasing fashion. Bacon and cheese sandwiches with pickled beets cut in fancy shapes as a garnish are delicious with coffee.

Grains of Wheat and Rice Shot from Huge Guns

To make them twice as delicious . . . twice as digestible

How exploding 125 million food cells makes Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice as nourishing as hot cooked cereals.

HAVE you tasted this utterly different kind of cereal . . . Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice . . . the crispest, crunchiest cereal on the market today?

Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are different because they're made differently. Choice full-flavored grains of wheat and rice are sealed in huge bronze guns. Then revolved in fiery ovens. This expands the natural moisture in the millions of tiny food cells. Then the guns are fired. Causing 125 million explosions in every grain.

Every tiny food cell is blasted open. The grains are made as completely digestible as though they had been cooked for hours. Hence Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are virtually as nourishing as hot cooked cereals.

These grains "shot from guns" become 8 times normal size. They have all the buttery crispness of fresh toast. They taste like sweet dew on a warm morning. Never before was rich grain nourishment made so delectably good to eat. Order Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice from your grocer today. The Quaker Oats Company.

POOR PA

BY CLAUDE GALLAN

"Our daughter Betty's beams in out of work again.
He loses his job so often that he already seems like a son-in-law."

"I used to ask Pa's opinion when I couldn't decide between two coats, until I noticed he always liked the one that was cheapest."

Father of Boy Wonder Wanted to Make Money
"We are going to make a pile of money," said the father of Johannes Brahms. He was speaking to the boy's music teacher.
"What?" exclaimed the teacher.
"A man has been here who wants to travel with the boy," explained the father. Johannes, though only seven, played the piano beautifully, and the father had been approached by a man who wished to take him around to different cities as a boy wonder.

nounced as "jew"; 72 marks. Alice Skellern—Second and eighth notes indistinct. Not accurately placed. Voice scarcely developed enough for the song. Intonation suffered towards the close of the song; 66 marks. Dolly Rutledge—Time too free and exaggerated. Expression as respects of tempo is not to be recommended. Sharpness of pitch towards the end. Voice has distinct break at about E and F, which needs attention. Vowels were some times poor; 64 marks. Mary Gratian—Comments some times poor and intonation erratic, but there were several points in favor of the fete. The "a's" were some times broadened too much, as in "idea" and "ladies"; 68 marks. Edna Dickson—This was much better. Inclined to hurry but some times indistinct. On the whole a very good effect; 71 marks. Freda Spencer—Intonation on some of high notes at fault. Diction and rhythm was good, but the intonation on high notes frequently gave out; 69 marks.

PROHIBITION GUARDS TRYING NEW SCHEME

New York, May 7.—An innovation in prohibition enforcement was introduced here yesterday in the form of subpoenas served upon customers in a restaurant where federal agents believed liquor was being sold.

Assistant United States Attorney Robert B. Waite said subpoenas had been served on three customers in Stark's Restaurant on Pearl Street because prohibition agents, unable to make personal purchases, were so sure liquor was being sold that the plan of forcing customers to testify under oath about their purchases was hit upon. Waite said the plan had not been tried out elsewhere in the country, but added there was no doubt of its legality.

The subpoenas, returnable to-day, oblige the men served to tell the grand jury what it is the agents saw them purchase and drink.

French Solon Warns Against Higher Auto Tariff

By MINOTT SAUNDERS

Paris, May 7.—It is madness to attempt, by prohibitive tariffs, to drive American automobiles out of France, says Captain Georges Scapini, the war hero and progressive member of the Chamber of Deputies. He warns French makers and his colleagues in Parliament of probable reprisals in French export business if the American motor industry is hard hit in France.

"When you consider that the retail prices of American automobiles in France are already twice as high as that on the same cars in America, the margin shows that the present protection is sufficient," he says, lining up as a staunch ally of American automobile interests here.

"The proposed additional protection for the French manufacturer would result in a practical monopoly, which would eliminate not only a healthy kind of business rivalry but would expose the consumer to the possibility of inferior automobiles sold at an increased rate."

Captain Scapini, who knows the United States as the guest of the American Legion, has taken steps to defeat two bills which would raise existing taxation on American cars from two to three times the present rate. He has submitted two alternative measures which would increase taxation only 50 per cent, and that on the basis of the value of the country where the cars are manufactured.

The two original projects which the bill statesman opposes, and which American automobile men in France say would practically compel them to withdraw from the country, have already been rejected by the Chamber's Customs Commission. But his counter attack may sidetrack the extremists' bills for his more moderate programme.

EXPORTS EXCEED IMPORTS

In his warning against excessive automobile taxation, Captain Scapini pointed out that American exports annually to the United States manufactured products valued at 2,800,000,000 francs, but imports only about 800,000,000 francs worth of manufactured goods.

"The possibility of reprisal in this field," he says, "is not to be overlooked. But the American export industry is hard hit in France. Such action might result in severe losses to French industries and might even be carried to such an extreme that the supply of materials for which France has vital need would be cut off."

French automobile manufacturers complain that their export figures are decreasing. But Captain Scapini explains that, owing to the high cost of gasoline in this country and the tax levied according to horsepower, French producers have concentrated on models of high speed, which save fuel and permit a lower horsepower rating. He has suggested legislation to improve the situation for both the French manufacturer and the customer.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, May 7.—Wheat: Early cables little firmer than the local wheat market opened about unchanged but with a total absence of any export business in so far as the trade was concerned and with no outside interest being shown, prices gradually eased off until they were 1 1/2 to 2 cents under the previous close.

There was no particular pressure, offerings being light, but the market appeared to sink of its own weight and in sympathy with weakness in Chicago, with some buying on the extreme break by those who had sold early. There was no feature to the market, however, trade volume being the smallest for several days.

There was a good demand for most grades of cash wheat, and bids on certain grades were half to 3/4 better. Offerings continued light. The pool reported having sold 600,000 bushels of 2 northern to Germany overnight, which New York claimed had been done at a price under current price levels.

Heavy rains reported from parts of the southwest, while showers extended northward into spring wheat territory, both Alberta and southern Manitoba, receiving light showers. Crop conditions are now very favorable all over the North American wheat belt, while export business is disappointing all of which makes it very difficult to hold any upturn that takes place.

Course grains—These markets were extremely dull with little or no business passing in the future, while the cash markets were no better. There was very little pressure in evidence but all markets were lower in sympathy with the decline in wheat.

Flax—This market closed lower, but there was little doing and demand continues very poor.

The Sun May Still Rise in the East and Set in the West, but No One Can Deny That the World Itself Has Changed, What With Science and the Modern Woman and Parents Who Obey Their Children

A MAN writes: "You say that the world has changed. What has changed? I say nothing has changed. The sun still rises in the east and sets in the west. Water runs downhill and smoke goes up just as it always has done. Men attract women and women attract men, just as Adam and Eve were attracted in the Garden of Eden. Boys and girls fall in love now just as they did hundreds of years ago. Children are born in the same old way. So I ask you: What has changed?"

Of course, when I said that the world had changed I meant it only in a manner of speaking, and writing now in a calm frame of mind I'll take off a few million alterations. Still, even the physical world has changed. Even in recent times nature has blown off a few volcanoes and changed the courses of rivers and earthquakes have shaken down mountains and man has cut continents in twain, and made lakes where none were before, and constructed new islands and made the desert bloom like the rose. Also climates have changed, and if some of our prehistoric ancestors who used to disport themselves in the tropical jungles in Alaska and thereabouts should return they would find that the winters were a deal colder than they used to be.

Certainly we have the same old sun and moon, running on the same old schedule, but they don't light up the same scenes that they used to by any manner of means. They glint now on buildings piled high as Jack's fabled beanstalk grew, on aeroplanes flashing through the upper air, on floating palaces that cross the ocean in four days, on radios and telephones and telegraphs and automobiles and on moving and talking pictures, on a thousand miracles of modern science and invention.

Why it is almost as hard for us to realize what the world was like even in our grandfather's time as it is for us to picture what it was before the flood.

Why, only the other day a little flapper asked me what girls did when they were young, and when I told her that our "dates," only we called them beaux then, came and took us to church on Sunday night and that when they called we spent the evening in talk and singing songs and making fudge or popping corn, and that it was a great event when we were invited to a ball, and that we felt very adventurous when we went buggy riding with a boy and that girls stayed at home and helped mother instead of going into business, she almost wept with sympathy.

"What!" she cried, "no night clubs, no going out anywhere to dinner and to dance, no automobiles, no moving pictures, just having to sit up and talk to a boy all evening, what a terrible time you must have had. How thankful I am that everything has changed."

Of course, men are men and women are women, just as they were in the beginning, but while the modern woman may take after her great-grandmother Eve in looks and figure and have on just as few fig leaves, that's about all. The inner woman is totally different, and it is folly to deny that the emancipated lady of to-day, with her vote in one hand and her pocketbook in the other and her ability to stand on her own feet and hold down a good job, hasn't changed from the meek, downtrodden, helpless clinging-vine female of the past.

Certainly men and women are attracted to each other just as they always have been. There is nothing new in sex appeal. And they still marry, as they have done the thousands of years since civilization was established, but the relationship between men and women and marriage have changed.

Perhaps human nature is not different from what it has always been. Perhaps grandfather was no more faithful to his wife than grandson is. Doubtless there have always been men who were philanderers and grouchies and drunkards and lightweights. And women who were shrews and naggers and shrewish housekeepers and wasters and spenders. And, doubtless, husbands and wives bore each other and got on each other's nerves and grew weary of each other.

But in the old days when people got married they stayed married because divorce was a scandal and a disgrace and something that simply wasn't done in our best families. So grandpa turned a blind eye on grandfather's wanderings and grandfather put up with grandmother's shortcomings and homes remained intact on the outside, no matter what sort of civil strife went on in the inside.

But now most young couples get married with the thought in their minds that if they don't like it they won't stick to it and to get a divorce is no more a stigma than to have the measles, and every modern husband and wife know that the real work of courtship begins when they get married and that if they keep each other and their home together they have got to make matrimony interesting and put a lot of pep into it.

And if you think children haven't changed you simply don't know your sterilized milk. Why, babies used to be so common that even the poor could afford them by the dozen. Now they are in the luxury class and the upkeep of a small infant costs as much as a yacht or a Rolls Royce. They used to be born anywhere. Now they have to be born in a hospital. They used to be satisfied with mother as a refreshment counter. Now they have to have certified milk and out-of-season vegetables and a balanced diet that costs as much as living at a swell restaurant. They used to just tumble up. Now any child of three who hasn't had a couple of major operations couldn't hold up its head in a prep school.

And when they are older it is not children who mind their parents, it's parents who obey their children. Mother may have worn wool stockings, but daughter has to have silk. Father may have walked five miles to the little red schoolhouse, son has to have an automobile to go to two blocks, and as for turning a bad child over your knee and spanking it, nobody would even dare to try it.

Oh, yes, things have changed a lot when you come to think of it.

Colwood

Mr. and Mrs. David McCormick, Latoria Road, Happy Valley, were the guests of honor Saturday evening at a delightful dance and presentation when over a hundred friends gathered for a social evening. Miss Kerahaw and H. Simpson supplied the music for the dancing. Preceding supper a grand march was held, followed by a mock wedding ceremony performed by A. Kitto when Mr. and Mrs. McCormick were required to answer many unusual and unique questions. F. W. Willett, then presented to Mr. and Mrs. McCormick a beautiful mantle clock, the gift of the employees of the Willett Lumber Company. In making the presentation Mr. Willett stated that Mr. McCormick had been one of the first employees when the mill started here some years ago. Mr. McCormick had always shown a willingness to lend a hand where needed and was held in great esteem by all the staff.

A buffet supper was then served. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Willett, Mr. and Mrs. David McCormick, Mrs. S. J. C. Brice, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Green, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Langford

Any parents and friends willing to assist with the transportation of the children for the Health Day sports, to be held at Colwood, are requested to be at Langford School at 1 o'clock on Wednesday.

Great satisfaction is being felt by the Langford residents that the making of a footpath from the schools to Langford Lake is being started. Owing to the increased motor traffic along the Island Highway, it is dangerous to walk to the Lake, particularly on Sundays.

Mrs. Henry Pike of Larkhall, Millstream Road, has left for Ladysmith where her mother, Mrs. Ross, has just passed away.

Capital City Grant Appeal Heard By B.C. Government

Request For $125,000 Over Five-year Period Endorsed By Influential Body

Premier Tolmie and Minister of Education See Merit in Principle of Proposals

Capital City beautification proposals advanced to Premier Tolmie yesterday afternoon by a representative delegation of Victoria citizens, were received with considerable sympathy. Ernest consideration was promised to the request that a grant of $25,000 a year for five years be given by the government for new work which would improve the whole area.

TO BEAUTIFY CAPITAL

The proposals were advanced not so much on the part of the city of Victoria, as a plan which had for its sole object the beautification of the capital, as representative of the Province as a whole. Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education; Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., and James H. Beatty, M.P.P., took part in the discussion, commending the general principles of the plan. H. D. Twigg, M.P.P., though named as a member of the delegation, was unable to be present.

Dr. Tolmie said he was very much impressed with the suggestion of beautifying the Capital City of the Province, and promised that the proposals would have the serious consideration of his government. This, he said, did not mean merely shelving the plan, but that it would be taken up and seriously inquired into.

PROVINCIAL PRIDE

The Premier said he was impressed with the fact that government property within the city was tax exempt, and with the desire to beautify the capital for the benefit of the Province as a whole. It was a matter of provincial pride that the Capital should look well and prove attractive, for the impression it created on visitors had a far-reaching effect.

Dr. Tolmie told of personal observation of what had been done at Ottawa for the Federal Capital, under similar plans, and referred to the transformation that had taken place on the area along the Rideau Canal, as a result of the operation of the voluntary commission. The proposals would be earnestly weighed, he said.

In introducing the delegation Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., pointed out that the request was not altogether a new one. Six years ago, to his knowledge, it had been suggested in the Legislature, and had been consistently revived ever since. It was not a plan to provide funds for the city of Victoria, but one for the finding of new funds for work that the area could not afford to undertake of itself. Any sums received would be for new work, to beautify the Capital for the benefit of the Province as a whole.

James H. Beatty, M.P.P., suggested that the proposals were not to be considered as merely affecting Victoria. Any such grant might well be applied to the development of the greater area, extending even as far as the Malahat, he said, in the beautification of the approaches to the Capital.

The formal statement embracing the request for the grant of $125,000 was read by Alderman William Cullin, a member of the special committee of the City Council that pioneered the proposal in this instance. Aldermen John A. Worthington, Robert Smith and W. T. Straith, chairman, other members of the committee were also present.

APPEAL WELL SUPPORTED

Hearty support for the plan was offered by P. B. Fowler, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, who urged that the proposals receive every attention. "The tourist trade was an important one to the Province, and the beautification of the Capital would prove an asset in the encouragement of this trade in still greater volume," he said.

Alderman Cullin, president of the Rotary Club, declared himself heartily in accord with the plan. The request, he added, was not without precedent, and instances what was being done at Ottawa along the same lines.

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe commended the principle of the proposal. It was reasonable to expect that the burden of developing a Capital worthy of its importance would be shared by all parts of the Province, he said.

H. C. Holmes, past president of the Victoria Automobile Club, told of the $100,000 per annum expended by the city now in the upkeep of parks and in similar avenues, and recalled that $25,000 a year for publicity purposes had been voted for some time, and was working to the benefit of the Island in general, as well as Victoria city. It was not unreasonable that the Province as a whole should lend a hand in this work, he said.

Miss Crease raised the need of attention to Clover Point, and spoke generally in favor of the proposal. Claude L. Harrison commended a suggestion that any sums voted and controlled by the voluntary commission could be expended in the greater area, and the work be carried out under one or other department of the government.

There was close on 100 per cent attendance of delegates invited to take part in the formal presentation of the request to the Premier. Those invited were:

R. Hayward, M.P.P.; James Beatty, M.P.P.; H. D. Twigg, M.P.P.; all three members for Victoria in the Provincial Legislature; Aldermen W. H. Cullin, J. A. Worthington, Robert Smith and W. T. Straith (chairman), members of the City's special committee on the Capital City grant proposal; Chamber of Commerce—A. S. Denny, F. R. Leighton, C. L. Harrison, H. E. Boorman and R. Musgrave; Canadian Club—P. B. Fowler, W. H. M. Haldane and Dr. M. W. Thomas; Women's Canadian Club—Mrs. F. B. Scurrah, Mrs. W. G. Wilson and Mrs. A. Carmichael; I.O.G.E.—Mrs. F. E. Corry, Mrs. M. L. McKinnon, Miss J. Crease, Mrs. K. M. Ward and Mrs. W. J. Sheppard; Rotary Club—A. Carmichael, B. W. Mayhew and E. B. Tomlin; Hugh A. Leigh and C. Elwood Watkins; Gyro Club—Trustee G. A. A. Heiden and Major H. C. Holmes; Automobile Club—Rev. Montague W. J. Bruce; Publicity Bureau—D. Leeming, R. H.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Avoid Gas — Indigestion

Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid" causing gas, sourness, bloating and after-eating pains, the trouble may be the use of a good alkaline. Blurred Magnesia—powder or tablets—is ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you or money back. Reliable druggists everywhere sell Blurred Magnesia with this guarantee. (Adv.)

AT THE THEATRES

LILY DAMITA IS
AT THE COLISEUM

Lily Damita, former idolized beauty of the European stage and screen, in general and particularly her native France, is gorgeous enough for any man to fight over, and two leather-necks are fighting over her in a play in her latest picture which is playing at the Coliseum Theatre.

The two gentlemen in question are happily married, but it makes no difference, for they are actors—and they play their roles with an unfeigned ardor.

All of which means that Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, who battled with each other through "What Price Glory," are at it again, but more merry than ever, in "The Cock Eyed World," the all-talker written by Lawrence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson and directed by Raoul Walsh.

ZEPPLEIN PICTURE
IS EPIC OF FLYING

The peril of Commander Byrd and his party in the South Polar regions is strikingly illustrated in "The Lost Zeppelin," Tiffany's great all-talking epic, filled with thrills, and adventure and romance, which now is being shown at the Playhouse Theatre. Conway Tearle, Virginia Valli and Ricardo Cortez are featured in this production.

"The Lost Zeppelin," deals with a huge dirigible which gets to the Antarctic region and is wrecked in a blizzard. All of those in the party but two perish. The picture shows the appearance of "Little America," as Byrd has named the Antarctic continent, and of the grim battle with the elements there. Through the amazing adventures runs a powerful love story in which the wife of the Zeppelin commander figures.

MCLEOD PLAYERS PROVE POPULAR IN BRILLIANT COMEDY

"The Naughty Wife," the amusing comedy at the Royal this week is without doubt one of the cleverest offerings during their season. It is a novel in plot and fresh and breezy in its action. It is also brilliantly played by all the artists in the cast. Lillian Christine and Margaret St. Barbe-West do some of the best work of their careers here. Gordon McLeod gives a delightful rendition of Hillary Farrington, the husband of "The Naughty Wife," and Claude Bailey is well cast as the man about town who causes all the trouble. The whole production is very charming, as the plot is unusual. There is a pretty scene in the second act, and some very beautiful dresses are worn by the ladies. "The Naughty Wife," is the last but one of the plays that the Players will present this season.

MYSTERY THRILLER IS ATTRACTION AT VARIETY THEATRE

Mysterious, thrilling and intensely funny, the three-act mystery-comedy, "The Ghost Chaser," was a huge success at the Variety Theatre last night when it was presented to a delighted audience by the Toby Leitch Players. In the role of a hard-boiled sleuth, whose courage is sorely tried by spooky experiences quite unusual for a detective, Raymond Toby Leitch was a constant riot of fun.

The plot develops in a weird, eerie atmosphere crowded with exciting incidents.

This recent Broadway success is most thrillingly exciting and dramatic. It has the further attraction of scientificating comedy.

"SARAH AND SON"
TAKES ACTRESS TO HEIGHT OF CAREER

Ruth Chatterton's theatrical career has been a series of dashes. When she was fifteen years old she went to Washington, D.C., to spend a Christmas vacation from an exclusive southern finishing school. The vacation was spent in a row of matinees. She became stage-struck, and told her friends that some day she would be a great theatrical star.

Five years ago a motion picture producer offered her a huge salary to desert the stage for the screen. She turned down the offer and word went round Hollywood that Ruth Chatterton would never appear in pictures.

But about eighteen months ago she was in the film capital again. A prominent director asked her to take a screen test, "just for fun." She refused. He looked at her again and said, "You are afraid you won't make good on the screen, aren't you?"

"That was a dare. She made the test the next day and it was pronounced a success."

"Sarah and Son," her latest picture, is playing at the Capitol Theatre all this week.

LOUISE FAZENDA
DOMINION PICTURE

Louise Fazenda, featured for fun in the exquisite "Black and White" dance number of "Show of Shows," Waterbrook and Vitaphone singing, dancing, talking, super-revue now at the Dominion Theatre, is considered one of the cleverest of screen comedians. Born in Lafayette, Ind., she received her education at St. Mary's Convent and the Los Angeles High Schools before she embarked upon a short career in stock. Originally associated with pig-tails and gingham, slap-stick comedies, Miss Fazenda rapidly progressed to even greater popularity in more subtle roles.

Esquimalt District Liberal Association Delegates Addressed By G. Pearson

G. E. Bonner of Cobble Hill was unanimously re-elected president of the Esquimalt District Liberal Association at their annual meeting Saturday evening in Luxton Hall.

A letter was read from Major S. F. Moodie, Liberal organizer for British Columbia, with reference to the forthcoming Liberal Convention at Kamloops, stating both railroad companies were offering a single fare and a half. Ten delegates from the quota for the Esquimalt District.
